Manhattanville College

Purchase, New York

In the lower left are the black mountains of our earth and the M of ourselves, men. Above us is set the star, the high goal of our quest. To the right shines the sun, the light enlightening everyman who comes into our world. In this light we read the book of learning, asking the meaning of our world and of ourselves. And so the cycle moves on without end. The seal, like reality, has no edges; its heights and depths, its width and breadth, lie open to the infinite.

When we arrived on campus four years ago, we were thrust into an apparent game of survival. Professors, administration and upperclassmen overwhelmed us, and success seemed unattainable. But we did not give in. We learned quickly that the key to excellence is a development of persistence, self-respect and a desire to learn from others. Manhattanville allowed us to form these qualities within ourselves.

Our efforts continued. We were constantly presented with new challenges. From academics to clubs, to on-campus jobs and eventually to internships; we learned to strive forward. Each search for excellence brought us to a new plateau, a new beginning.

The process is indeed ongoing. As we continue to accumulate the desire to use our potential from those ahead of us, we are setting an example for those behind. At Manhattanville, excellence breeds excellence.

EXCELLENCE

A Search For

A search for knowledge is one of the most fundamental aspects of college life. Manhattanville grants us the opportunity to grow in a social environment as well as in a liberal arts curriculum. We are each given the power of choice in our academic and personal lives. This type of freedom allows us to experiment in all areas of study with an open mind.

For most, however, knowledge is more than participation in the broad realm of liberal arts courses offered each semester. It goes beyond reading novels, interpreting laboratory or statistical data, and writing extensive research papers.

Knowledge also comes from socializing with faculty or close friends at an event. It comes from being ourselves and from observing others. It is having a special interest, mastering it, and teaching it to someone else. It can come from listening to a poetry reading, hearing a fellow student play a musical instrument or watching the Valiants out on the athletic fields.

At Manhattanville, the search for knowledge is limitless. It is a process which is enhanced with each day. It is the gift given to us that can never be destroyed.

The first week of freshman year was hectic and demanding. Aside from all of the orientation activities, including the "thrill" of placement exams at 7:30 a.m., we had to make an immediate adjustment. For many of us, it was the first time away from home and from the comfort of family and friends. Organizations played an important role in this transition and the Student Activities Fair was the perfect place to begin.

Students rushed around from club to club, and often volunteered for everything that looked interesting. Not only was this a world beyond academics, but it was an opportunity to meet new people and to become more well-rounded.

As time passed, we became club presidents, varsity sportsmen, founders of new organizations or strong supporters of groups that shared our common interests. Our world broadened, and we experienced the fulfillment that comes from dedication.

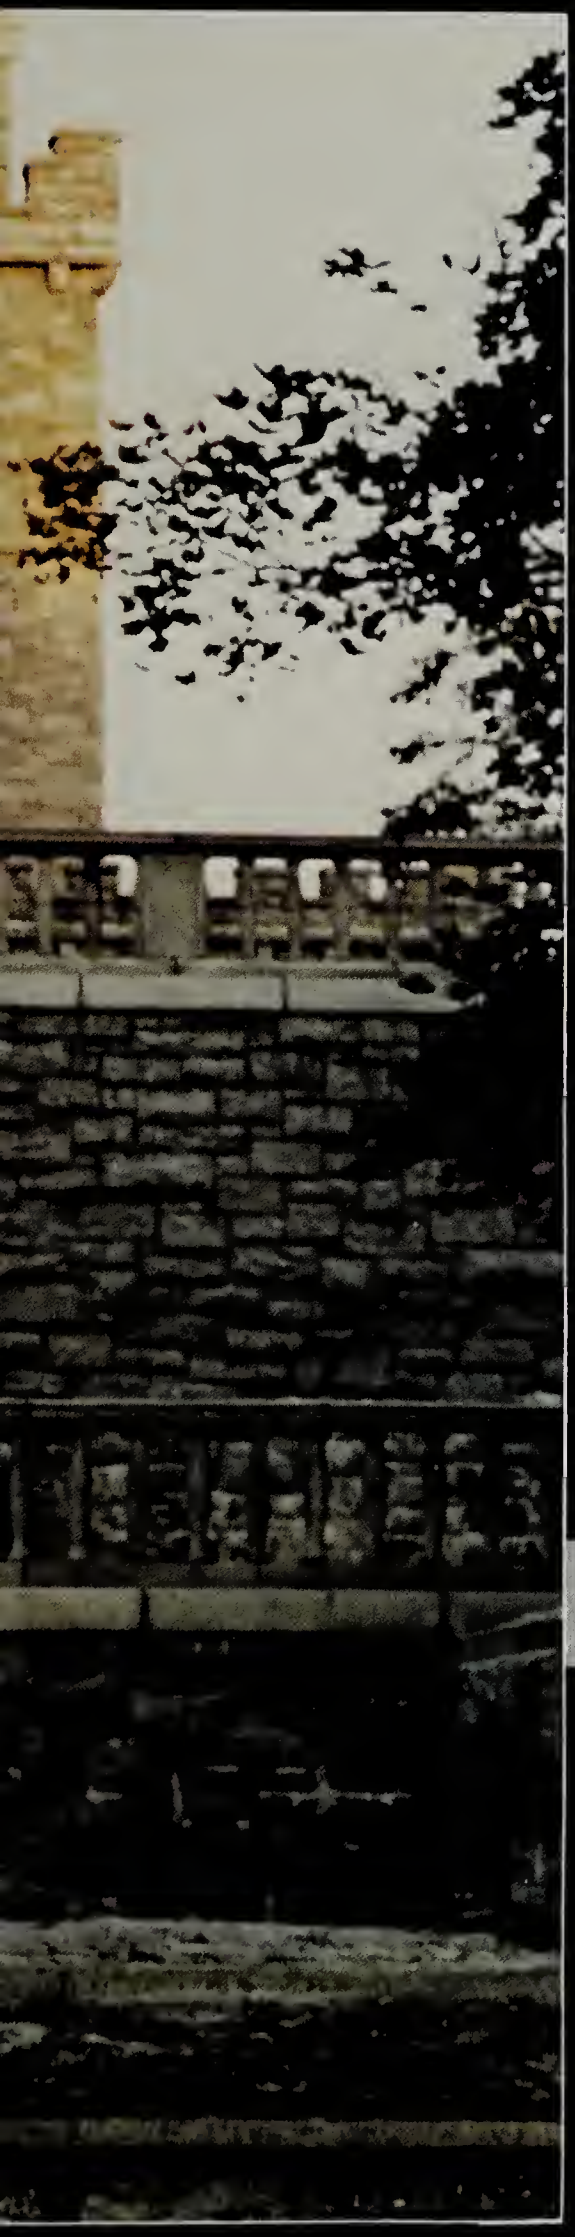
FULFILLMENT



A Search For

Friendship is one of the most important ingredients in living a happy life. The ability to reveal one's ideas and feelings to another human being is what friendship is all about. At Manhattanville, the doors to friendship are open wide. As soon as we look beyond the doors, we are able to build friendships that will last throughout our college years and the rest of our lives.

Having and maintaining friendship, both male and female, is not always easy. It means that we have to look beyond our own needs and focus on the needs of others. It may mean staying up all night to help a friend pass a difficult exam, driving them to an important appointment, or just listening to them with an open heart. Most important, it means loving them for who they are.

Eventually, when we all leave Manhattanville, we will take with us much more then a certificate of our academic achievement. We will be leaving with wonderful memories of our greatest friends.

HAPPINESS

Happiness is that feeling of inner peace. It is the satisfaction that we feel in ourselves and in our relationships with others.

At Manhattanville, we are given a chance to discover who we are as individuals. For some happiness is easy to feel; it is passing a difficult exam or receiving an A on a term paper, it is the feeling we get as we walk on the quad and see the brilliant fall leaves, it is looking out of our dorm windows and viewing the first snowfall.

Manhattanville is more than just a college; it is a home, a community, a place where we can be ourselves. For some, happiness is being outdoors. For others it is a challenging job.

Happiness is being able to enter the cafeteria alone, knowing that there are friends there to meet you. It is going to the Pub on Thursday Night and letting loose on the dance floor. It is meeting that special someone and falling in love.

Manhattanville is where we form our memories. It is a place of freedom, choice and individuality. There is no feeling that compares with that of having completed four challenging and rewarding years here, and knowing that we have formed some of the most meaningful relationships of our lives. It is that feeling together with all other college memories, which makes happiness a priceless gift.

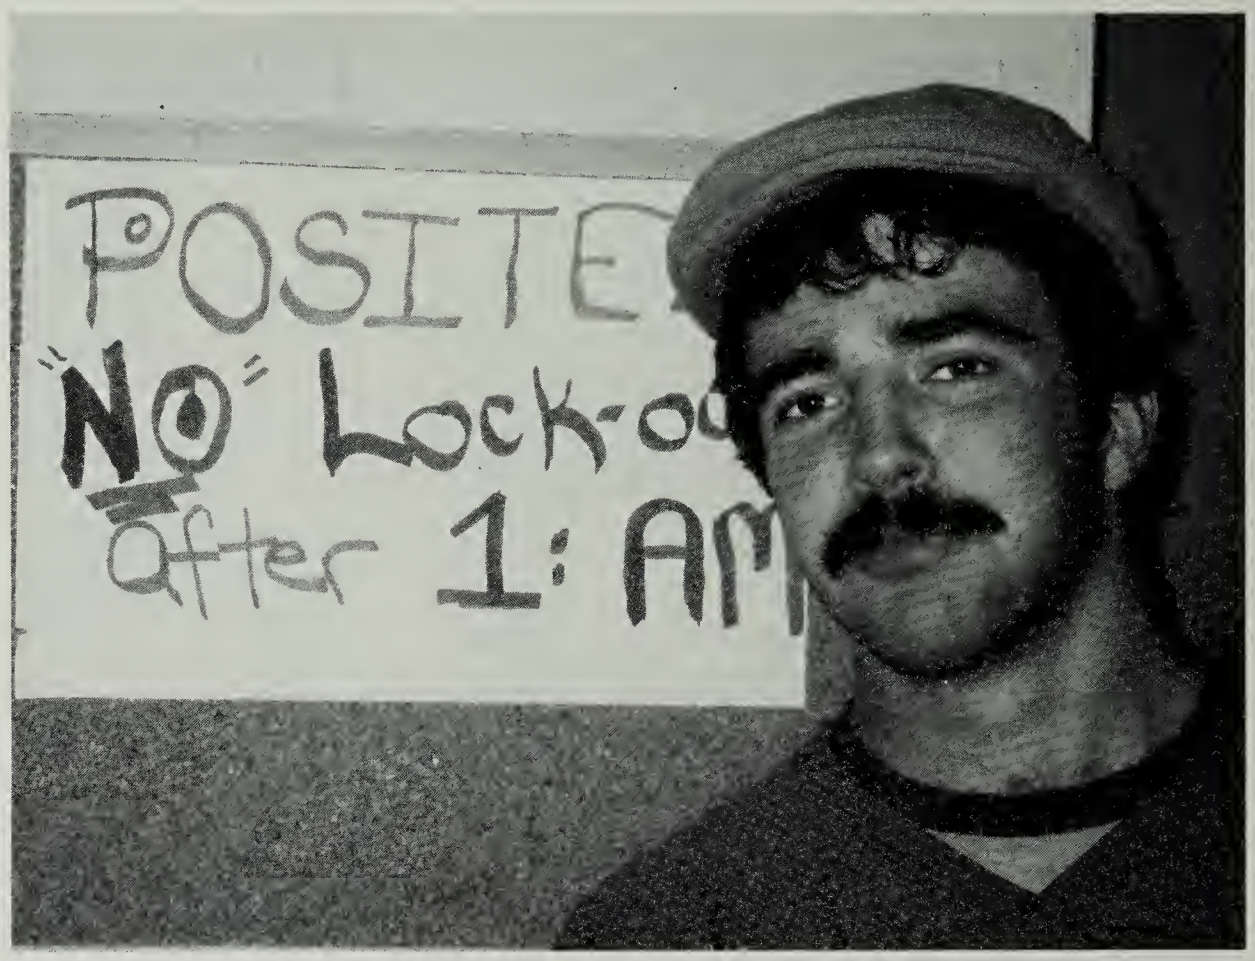
STUDENT LIFE

A Home Away



From Home

We arrive at Manhattanville in late August, prepared to begin again. Our cars overflow with everything that we own, and all the essentials for college survival.

Friends stop us half-way up the stairs eager to say hello as we struggle with stereos, T.V.s, trunks, posters, and yes, even some of mom's home cooking. Move-in will just have to wait until we get reacquainted.

Here we are, on our own, at our home away from home for the new academic year. We have been away for the summer, yet it seems as though we have never left. The 'Ville hasn't changed. Living arrangements, classes, and some friends are new but the spirit among us is still the same.

There is so much to look forward to now — the college life is ours. We have both freedom and responsibility; we must make our own decisions. There is no one looking over our shoulders but there is also no one to pay our phone bill, to do our laundry or to push us to go to class. We are on our own, it's up to us now.

We are Manhattanville students and we'll stick together. The close, family-like atmosphere of our small community allows us to experiment, to create, and to grow. We learn from our successes, our failures, and from each other. We learn from our Student Life.

Portfolio Panic

You are a different person while sitting at your desk amidst cluttered research notes and empty Diet Pepsi cans. No longer are you excited about the courses offered this semester. Instead, you are frantically trying to work out a course load that fits in to your schedule before the registration deadline!

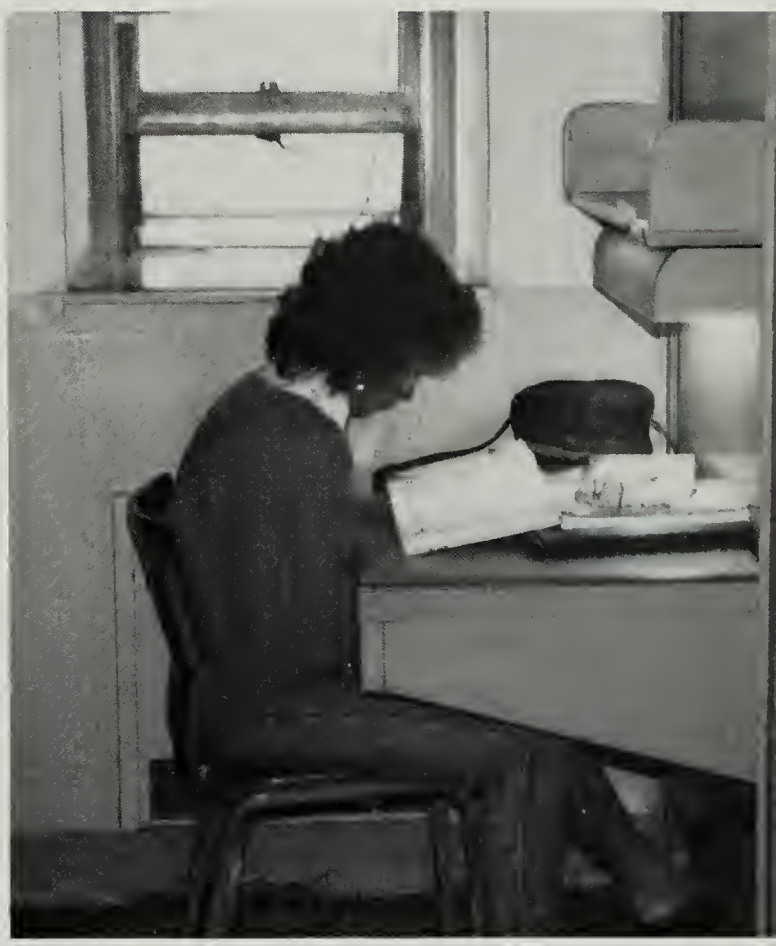
Academic diversity is an integral part of Manhattanville. The most popular majors this year are Economics, Management, Biology, Political Science, and English.

The flexibility of our academic system allows us to experiment in various areas. This system, "affectionately" known as the Portfolio System, enables us to enjoy the benefits of a liberal arts education.

Portfolio panic involves a mastery of the basic competencies. Remember these? Research using Bibliographic Method (no more dance classes), Research Using Quantitative Method (see Carol Sherling — Intro. to College Math), and don't forget Written Critical Analysis — (after four years you should have one paper!)

The Study Plan, Rationale and Annual Evaluations establish the groundwork for our future. This individualized framework enables us to strive toward successful completion of our goals.

Laura Ann DiCarlo



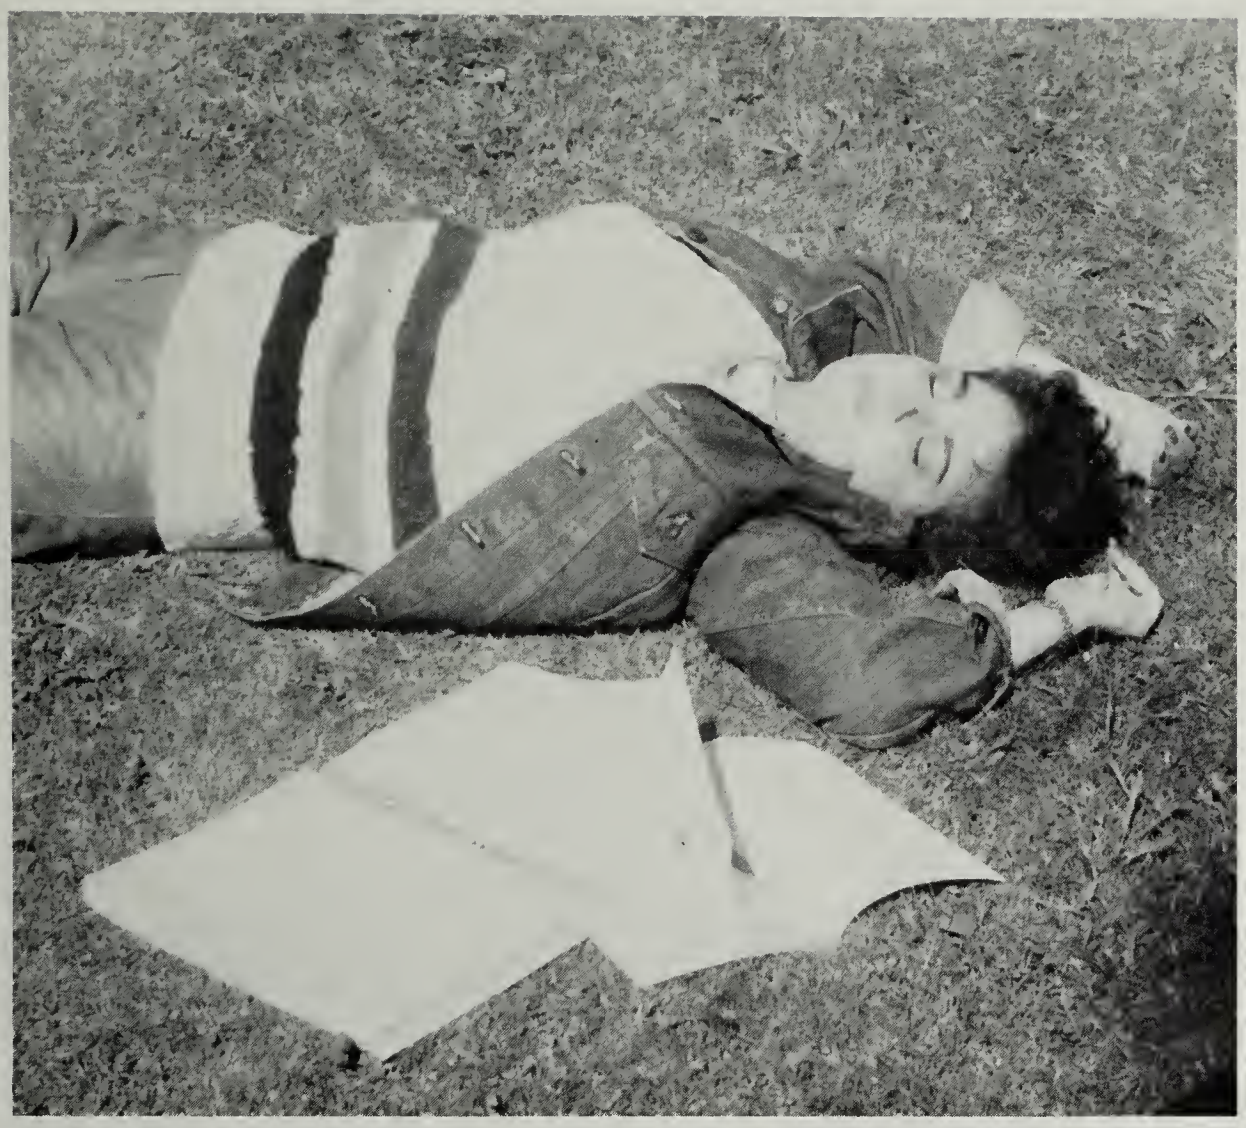
Diversions

The pressure is on. The work is piling up and you can't find your desk. Your Portfolio is up for review, exams are coming up, and research papers are due. Aside from this, you work part-time and have meetings and practice in the afternoon. You've got to relax. What do you do?

As Manhattanville students, we work hard and we play hard. Each of us needs an outlet; a way of diverting extra energy and tension. Whether it is painting, taking a run on the Fitness Trail, clowning around with friends or just hanging out on the Quad, we need a way to relax.

Jacqueline Clements

Relaxation



What do you do to relax?

Kim Chereshkoff: "Shut all the lights in my room off, and watch my fish tank."

Robert Fields: "Have a few beers and get uh . . . 14 hours of sleep.

Nathalie Madsen: "Listen to classical music."

Tania McKeon: "The only time I relax is when I go to the bathroom."

Joe Paolino: "Lately I don't know what the words mean! Ask me why I'm nervous!"

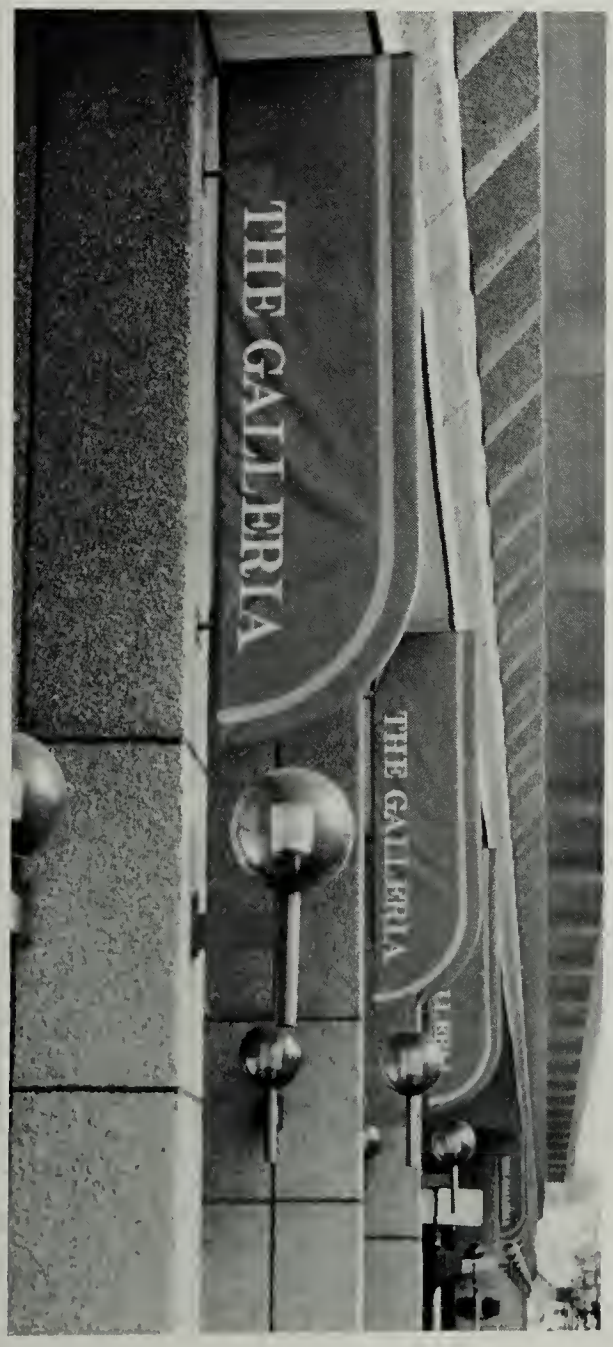
Mary Lee Santoro: Fast men — Fast Cars."

Neil Scannell: "Yell at my roommate."

Cheryl Valois: "I do anything!"

Alexandra Voepel: "You mean besides drinking champagne?"

Hangouts



Our memories of Manhattanville would not be complete without mention of some of our off-campus hangouts.

The search for edible food is perhaps one of our greatest quests. Whenever the Flik cuisine becomes too much to bear, McDonald's, Food Emporium, and the White Plains Diner always save us. On our midnight runs we break our diets and our piggybanks, but gain a better appreciation for mom's meatloaf.

Our nightlife is diverse and often leads to many exciting moments. No Thursday is complete without a trip to the local hotspots: Branch Hill, Greenjean's, Cobblestone's, Mug and Ale, The Beat, Garbo's or Confetti's for a drink and a turn on the dance floor.

We piled ourselves in someone's car, and many an establishment saw a Manhattanville crowd. Wherever we went we left an impression and left with a hangover. But more often than not, we also came away with one of those magic moments: a private joke, a new relationship or a new realization.

A Place Where Everyone

We know the small room with black walls, folding tables and chairs, and a few bar stools quite well. This room, equipped with only a small mirrored dance floor, plastic plants, and a few games like Asteroids and Fooz-ball, has managed to become one of our favorite places on campus. What are we searching for, and what have we found here?

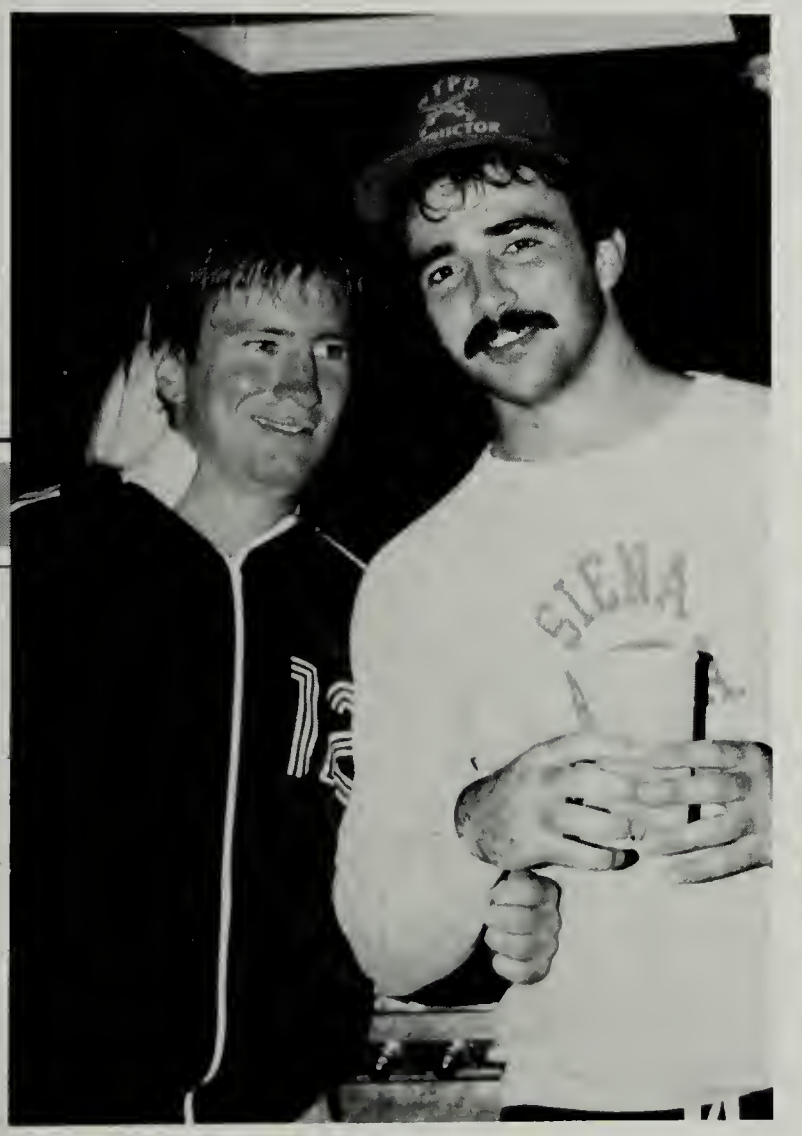
The Pub has seen it all. It has seen the craziness of crowded Thursday Nights, dancing on tables, and even on the bar, in years gone by. It has seen quieter times like Monday Night Football when you came in for a quick beer, for some conversation, and to take a chance on the game. It has seen Happy Hour on Friday afternoons when you came in at the end of a tough week or hard practice to begin the weekend and to mingle with friends and faculty.

It has been the place where many relationships have begun and ended. Remember sitting outside on the stone wall or in the back room for that quiet talk with your best friend or new interest? Remember wishing the Pub was bigger because you were trying to avoid someone? Remember spotting "that person" from across the room and keeping a careful, inconspicuous watch out of the corner of your eye!

The small room with black walls has served an important purpose in our lives. We shared something here whether it was dancing crazily to favorites like "Shout", playing Fooz-ball or just enjoying being in a place where everyone knows your name. It has been the place to get away from it all, yet also the place to find it all.

Jacqueline Clements

Knows Your Name



Our Style

At one time there was a dress code at Manhattanville and its female students would only leave campus wearing long, white, linen gloves. Many things have changed since then. Not only has Manhattanville gone co-ed but it has opened itself to as many different styles and attitudes as its students bring.

This diversity of style can be witnessed on the quad. You might see a preppie running to class wearing Vuarnets and a polo or an athlete wearing jams and a beret and playing lacrosse. You might also stumble across someone in sweats and a T-shirt, taking a nap under a favorite tree. Finally, a girl in neon pink paisley blinds you as you walk by, and music drifts toward you from Founders and Spellman. It is a strange combination of Wham, The Smiths, Phil Collins, and Vivaldi.

Our college years are a time to sample many different ideas and styles. Exposure to M'ville's diversity has drawn us together in that we learn from each other. Our personal style is not only how we dress, it is how we think and what we do in our spare time. It is what makes us a special part of Manhattanville.

ATHLETICS

The Manhattanville Athletic Department sponsors 12 intercollegiate teams, 3 club sports and an extensive intramural and recreational program for its students. One of every five M'ville students was involved in the intercollegiate or club sport program last year, while there were 650 different participations intramural activities.

At the intercollegiate level, women compete in 7 sports — field hockey, soccer, basketball, swimming and diving, volleyball, softball and tennis, while men compete in 5 sports — soccer, basketball, baseball, lacrosse and tennis. The College' athletic record during the past few years may be considered distinctive in view of M'ville's small size and the Division III policy prohibiting athletic scholarships.

These achievements illustrate that Manhattanville's intercollegiate athletic program continues to enjoy the reputation as one of the most extensive and finest small college programs in the East.

Athletics at M'ville

During the 1985-86 year the Athletic Department welcomed a couple of newcomers, Jack Murphy and Arnold Rosenbaum.

Murphy became the new assistant Athletic Director and Head Coach for men's soccer. Murphy comes to M'ville from Belmont Abbey College in Belmont, NC where he coached, taught History and was director of Counseling Services. Internationally, Murphy has had extensive experiences serving as the Associate Academic Dean and soccer coach at the American Community School in Surey, England and also serving as soccer coach at Taymouth Castle School in Scotland.

Rosenbaum became the new Head Coach of the woman's volleyball team. He received his Masters Degree in Athletic Administration from Springfield College and has had a vast amount of experience on the volleyball court. A 2-year varsity member of the Queens College volleyball team, Rosenbaum has also instructed volleyball as a teaching associate at Springfield College.

We welcome Jack Murphy and Arnold Rosenbaum to M'ville and wish them many winning seasons at M'vill.

Stickers, strong defensive year

The Valiants opened up their '85 season with a 1-0 overtime victory over King's College. The victory turned out to be the stickers only win of the season as the Valiants lost all of their remaining games, ending the year with a 1-14 record.

Despite their disappointing record, the Valiants stayed close to most of their opponents, losing 10 games by only one goal. The strong defensive season was led by defensive backs, Sheila Falvey, Abby Person, Kris Cirino, and sophomore goalie, Sheila Donahue, who averaged 18.7 saves per game.

The stickers look to the '86 season with much optimism as the squad is planning an exhibition tour to Ireland in March and will begin their '86 fall campaign with a nucleus of experienced players.

Skip, 279 saves

Under the direction of Coach Murphy, the men's soccer team improved last year's record of 1-19-3 to finish the season with a 2-13 record. Sophomore forward Carlos Guerreiro led the team in scoring while junior Doug Allen and junior Larry Littler led the team in assists.

Skip Haile, Manhattanville's goalie for four years, also played well throughout the season. He made 25 saves against Manhattan College; 18 saves against Curry College; and 279 saves for a season total. Special recognition should also be extended to Vince Berghella, Christopher Marks and Andy Pelosi for their athletic talent, leadership and team spirit.

The women's soccer team was plagued with injuries this year. Early in the season, junior goalie Donna Walsh was sidelined due to torn cartilage in her knee and was unable to complete the season. At Scranton University, Theresa Callahan sustained a broken leg when she collided with an opponent. The team received additional bruises and sprains at Skidmore College. Bridget Kelly left the game with a concussion, and Robin Marella and Tracy D'Annibale were added to the injured list with sprained knees.

Despite the numerous casualties, the squad mustered enough strength and enthusiasm to capture a 9-7 record. Sylvie Madsen, Robin Marrella and Cathy Klaschka led the team in scoring. Senior Sylvie concluded her final season at M'Ville with 11 goals, 11 assists, bringing her four-year career total to 52 goals, 38 assists in 63 games. Senior Robin scored 8 goals and had 9 assists. Junior Klaschka concluded the season with 19 goals and 3 assists.

Alexandra Lyras, Ann Chesterfield, Kathy Benjamin, Bridget Kelly and Michelle Brisson were also instrumental in the team's success this year.

The Good Guys

This is a new year for the Manhattanville Rugby Club, with only one returning senior, Tom Gilette, eight returning members, and eight new rugers. The 1985-86 Club leaders are: Tri-Captains — Jim McTague, Tom Gilette, and Joe Calabrese; President — Ed Callahan; Vice President — Paul Cardillo; and Treasurer — John Heaslip.

The Club is starting out with new leaders, and new players. Based on the potential talent and support shown, the Good Guys hope that this year will be an exciting one.

The volleyball squad had an excellent season finishing with a 20-10 record (the most victories in the school's volleyball history), capturing first place in the Hudson Valley Athletic Conference and winning second place in the Hunter Tournament. Also, for the first time in Valiant history, the team qualified to compete in the New York State Volleyball Division III Tournament.

The Co-captains, Jodi Kiggins and Vera Maltsev turned in fine performances for the year. Jodi led the team with 295 service points and 89.1 percent in hitting. Vera produced 129 points with 98.2 percent in setting. Senior Sue MacWhinnie also contributed to the team's success. She had a 91.7 percent in setting, 149 hits, and 98.2 percent in hitting.

Coach Rosenbaum enjoyed his first season at Manhattanville and looks forward to next year with optimism. "We hope to build upon our past season. With the nucleus of the team returning we should be strong contenders in the state tourney, and Hudson Valley."

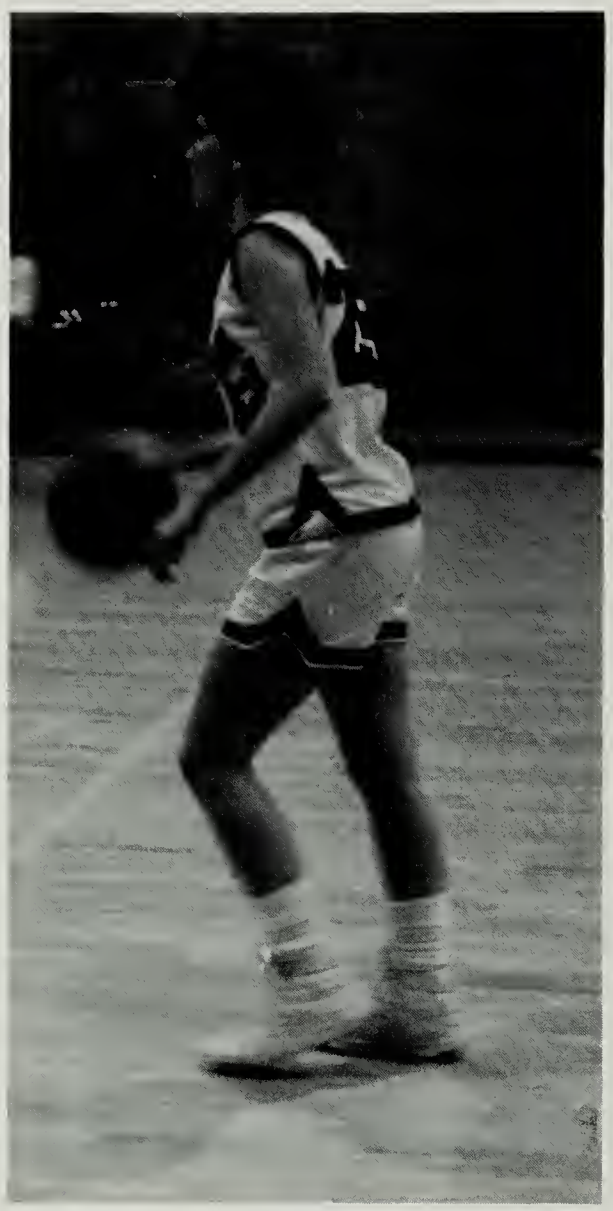
Bright outlook for ladies



Four out of five starters return for the Lady Valiants who sported a 16-9 record in their '84-85 campaign. Sixth year head coach Larry Holten, who garnered his 100th career victory in '84, will rely on sophomore Kerry Flanagan at the point guard position, while junior Cathy Klaschka will assist in the ball handling duties. Seniors Karen Vercelli and Sue Thiemann will start at the forward positions. Thiemann will also rotate at the center slot. A number of talented players will be vying for the fifth starting position.

Vercelli, who has scored 873 points while at M'ville, should become the fifth Lady Valiant to break the 1000 point plateau. The 5-7 forward led the Valiants in scoring and was also named to the ECAC Weekly Honor Roll.

Among top recruits, Holten welcomes freshmen Lori Thiemann, Karen Donovan, Susan Keller, Deanna Fortunato, and sophomore transfer Tracy D'Annibale.

According to Holten who boasts a career record of 115-62 at M'ville, this year's squad has incredible depth.

Men win MONY Tourney

Highlighting the Men's Basketball season was their win over Salisbury State to capture the 1986 MONY Castle Classic Tournament. While the Valiants far outscored their opponent in the first half by 60-47, the Salisbury Gulls returned in the second half with renewed strength and narrowed the Valiant's lead to only 3 points. The Valiant men, however, pu;led together to beat Salisbury with a 95-93 victory.

Leading the team was Mike Prendergast scoring 32 points. Anthony Montague (24 points, 13 rebounds) and Greg Johnson (16 points, 10 rebounds) also turned in exceptional performances. Coach Tom Careny said, "These guys came out here to play and we proved ourselves on the court."

The women's swimming and diving team has excelled under the experience and direction of Coach John Collins, 12 year veteran of M'ville, and Assistant Coach Kip Fierro. Jeannette Loveless has performed exceptionally well during her four year tenure here capturing the All-American title and qualifying for Nationals all four years. Senior Ann Morgan has also contributed to M'ville's success excelling in the backstroke and gaining the All-State title.

The co-captains, Ann and Jeannette said that this should be a successful and rewarding year for the Valiants. They point to Carly Dewey's recruiting as a key to their success. Adding strength to the team are freshmen Gretchen Sweeney and Cathy Blunk. Cathy has turned in winning performances in the 500 freestyle, and Gretchen has won the 100 freestyle. Returning and showing great promise are Sheila Finn, Deidre Ryan, Diane Verville and Lois Johnston.

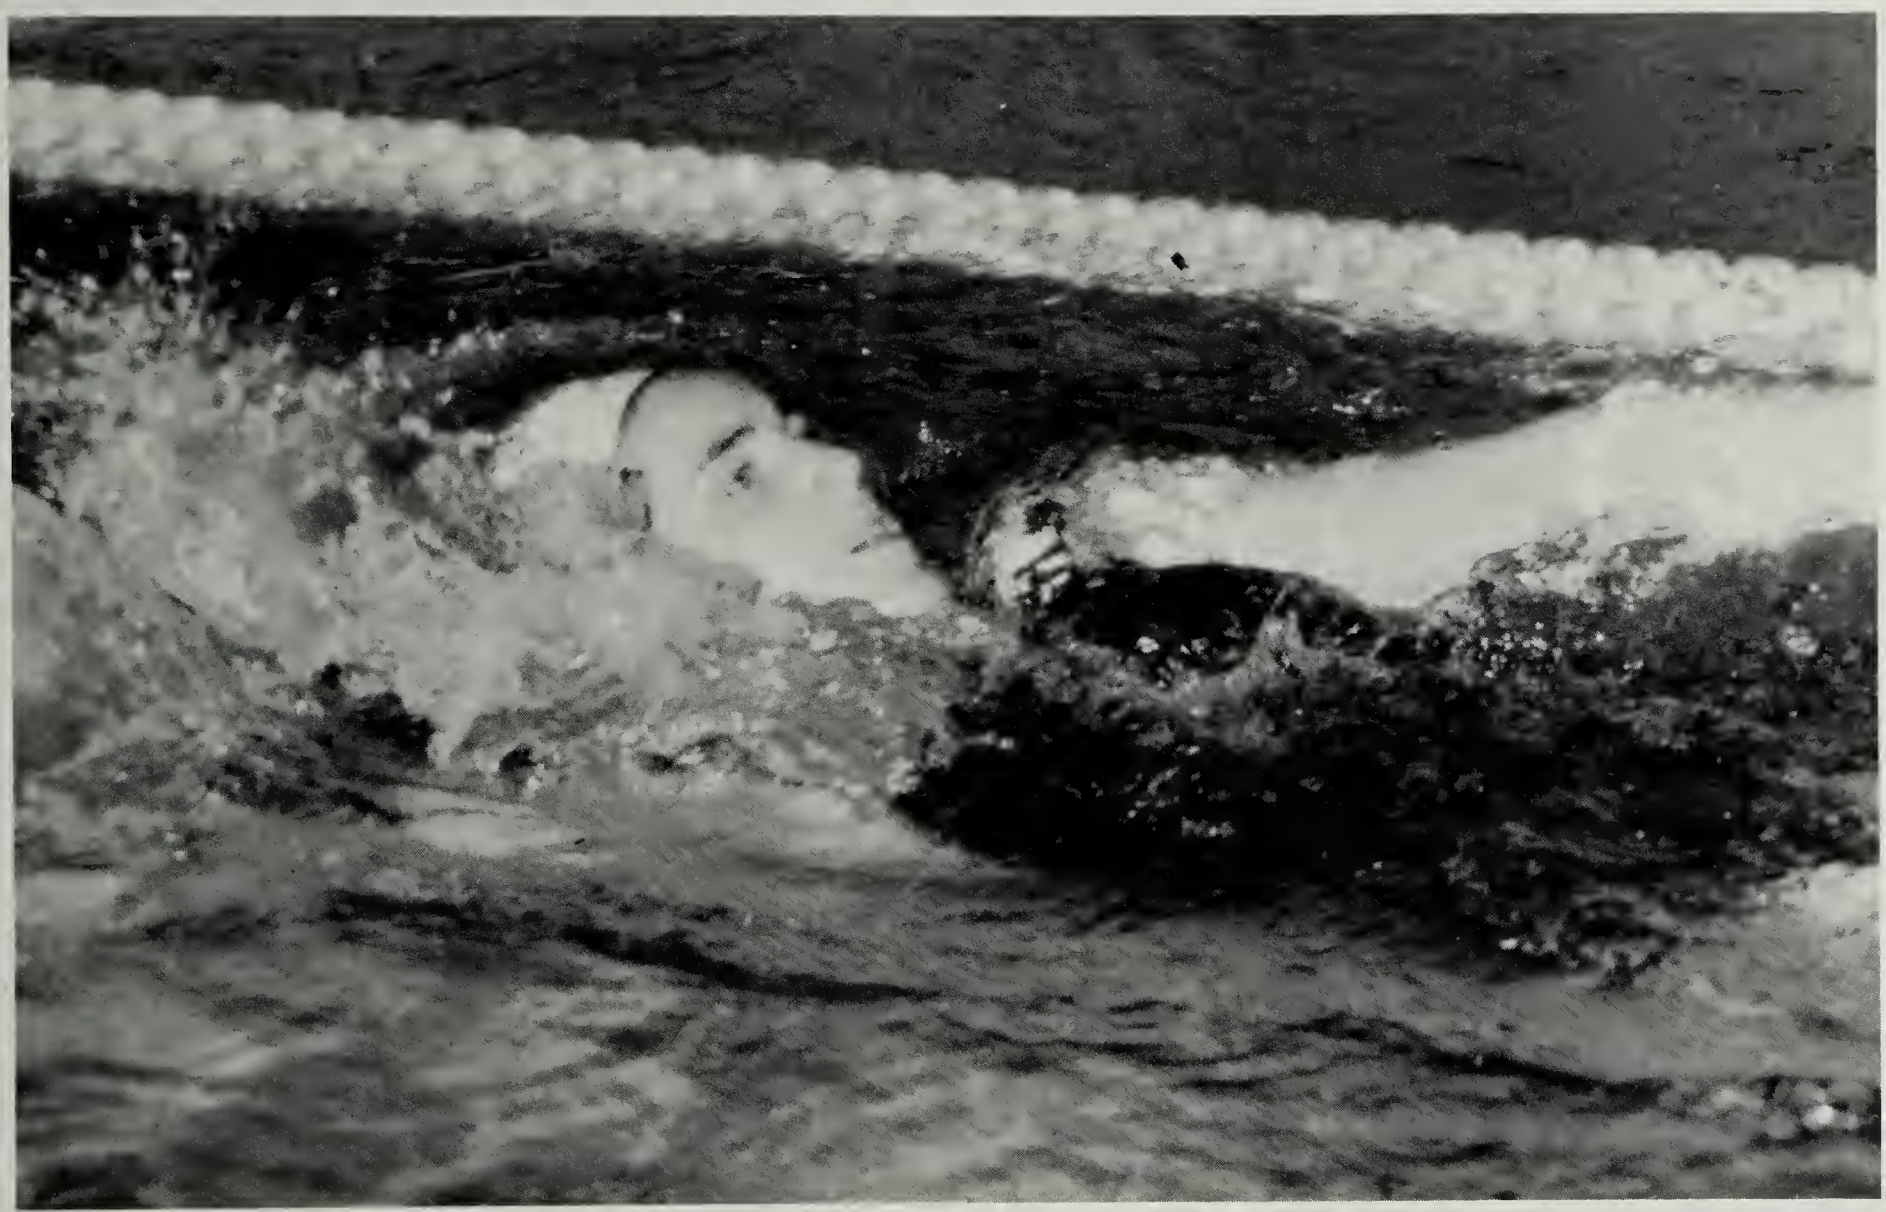
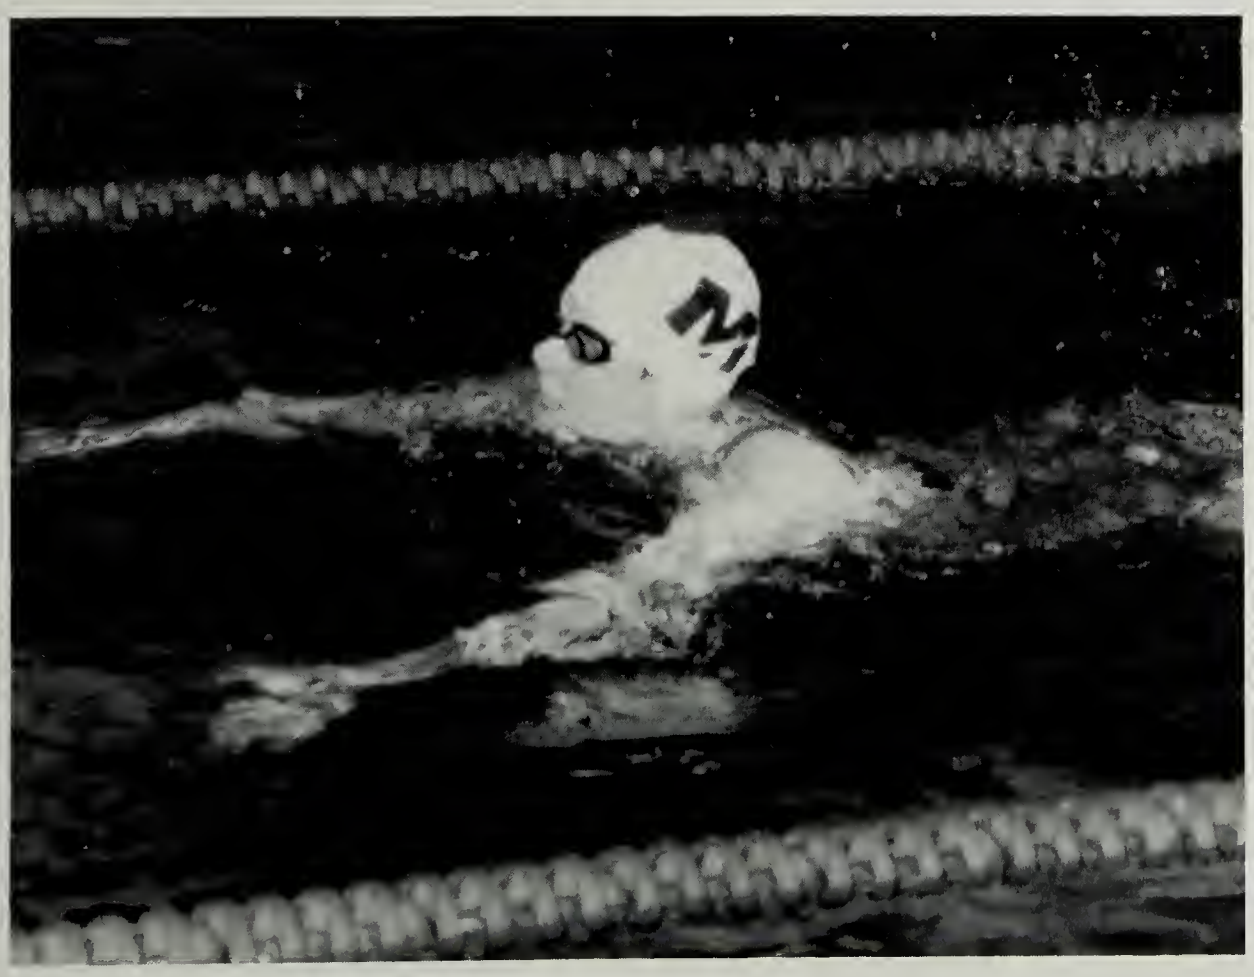
Jeannette goes to Nationals





In 1985, the Valiant baseball squad sported the best overall record in the school's athletic history with an outstanding 32-7 mark. They also garnered the Knickerbocker Conference Championship and were the ECAC New York-New Jersey Division III runner-up. Nationally, the Valiants claimed recognition leading all Division III schools in team scoring, team batting average, stolen bases and a host of other categories.

Coach Bob Greiner welcomes back the entire pitching staff led by Jon Flanagan with a 10-1 record, 3.44 ERA, Mike Schober, 3.08 ERA, and Ted Gonzalez 3-2, 4.55 ERA.

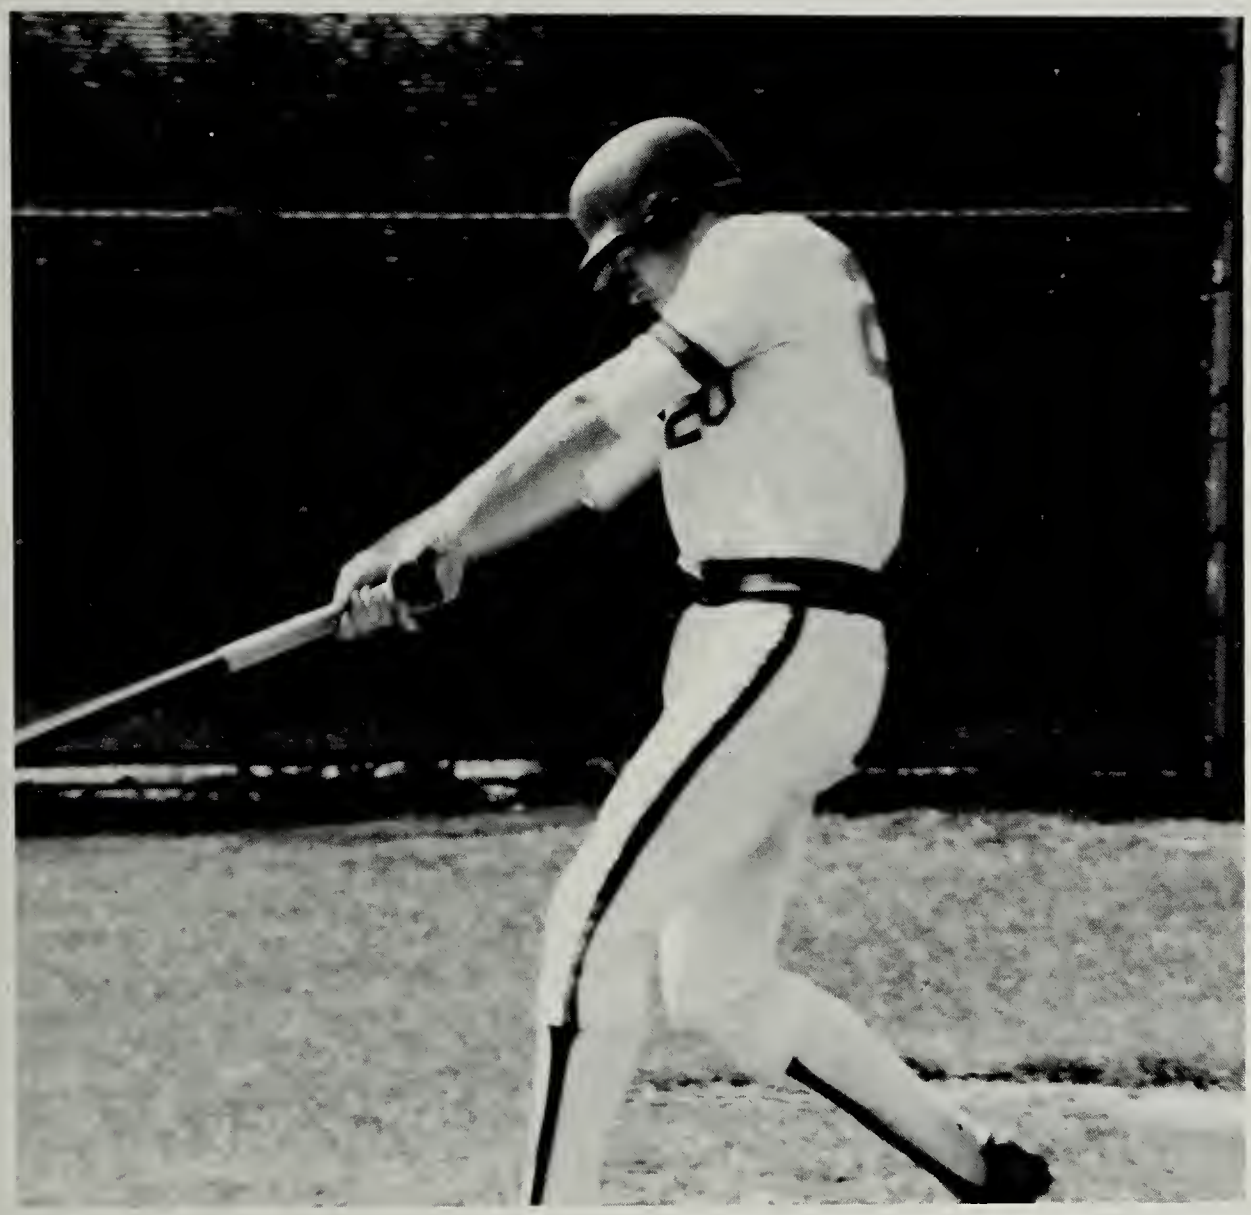
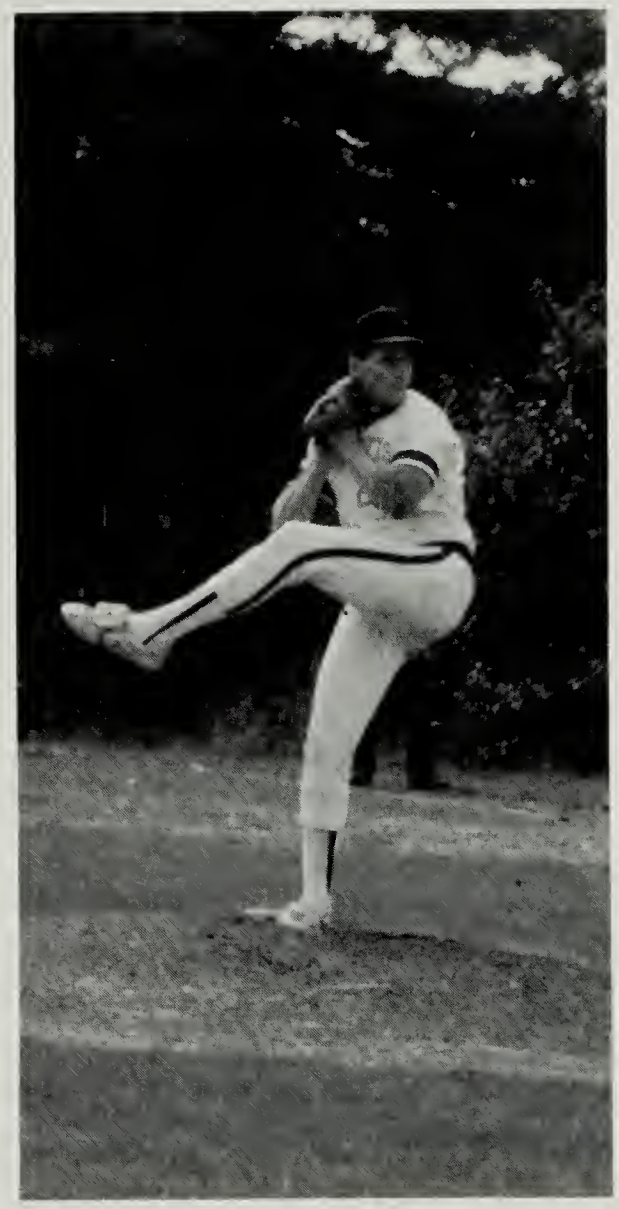
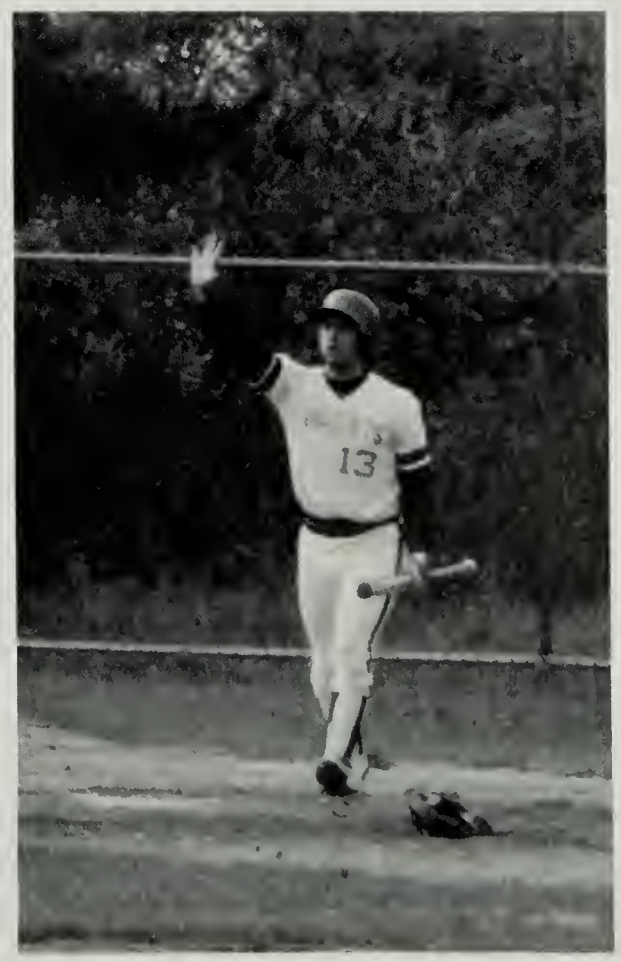
Best year for hitters







Valiants go to Florida

The lady Valiant's softball team has been practicing since Jan. 26. Their season will begin this year with a tournament in Florida in which they will play ten games. This pre-season bout will provide the Valiants with much needed experience for this season's opportunities.

Returning from last years' squad are seniors Sheila Falvey and Debbie Kelly. The team also features strong-armed pitchers Cathy Klaschka and Victoria Long.

With the help of the new freshmen and the experience of last years team members, the Valiants can look forward to a promising season. With seasoned coach Lynn Luczkowski the lady Valiants should make a fine showing.

Laxmen, high hopes

The 1986 stickmen look towards a strong showing in this their forth year as a varsity team. Lead by their two four-year players, Chris Marks and Bill Liebowitz and helped by strong performances by Skip Haile, Dave Sadlier and goalie Steve Fossati, the laxmen look to play a demanding Division III schedule and come up with impressive victories against perennial rivals such as Dowling and Babson. Also expected to contribute to the Valiant winning ways are underclassmen Leon Diemer, Warren Schiele and Dave Skolnick.

Chris Marks

ACTIVITIES

Tower

The production of the yearbook begins with an idea — the theme. Ideally, the theme relates to all Manhattanville readers. This year's staff chose "A Search For", concentrating on the idea that everyone involved in college life is searching for some intangible. This search may be social, academic, athletic, or activities-related but all of us are here to achieve "something."

The focus of our particular search, combined with the historical and aesthetic sense of this campus, leads us to a certain awareness. What do we find at the culmination of our four-year search? The unique mixture of our achievement not only provides us with specific academic knowledge, a more graceful dance posture or a higher batting average, but to a much more invaluable realization.

What we have found at the end of our search at Manhattanville, regardless of the avenue chosen, is a secure sense of self-awareness; of character. We have found Ourselves.

Orientation Board

Orientation Board consists of five students who have worked together since last spring to design and coordinate student advisor training and events for the fall orientation period. The Board was determined to schedule events that would ease the transition to college life for new, incoming students.

The Orientation Board welcomed Gil Eagles — hypnotist, Tim Settimi — comedian, Playfair, Beach Blanket Bingo Party, outdoor volleyball and Twister games. The Board also put together a humous slideshow which combined facts about the surrounding areas and typical new student personality profiles.

Chamber Choir

Dance Ensemble

The Dance Ensemble is a group of talented students who, under the guidance and leadership of Dance Dept. Chairperson Greta Levart, perform in bi-annual concerts. The concerts are predominately run by students -- producers, managers, choreographers, etc. During the concert, students get a chance to explore and show their creativity. Dances performed in the concert range from ballet(classical) to modern to jazz.

Each year the Dance Ensemble has a wellknown dancer/choreographer as a guest choreographer. In the past we have had brilliant artists such as: Art Bridgman, Myrna Pacher, Annabelle Gamson, Mark Taylor, and Kai Takei. These people teach and train Manhattanville's dancers in technique and also a dance to be performed in the concert.

H.O.L.A.

The Hispanic Organization for Latin Awareness started during the fall semester of 1985. The objectives of the Club are to promote the Spanish language and culture, as well as to add to the variety of extracurricular acitivites on campus. The organization has 36 members and is still growing. Approximately ⅓ of the members are non-Latin Americans and non-Spanish speaking. This makes us particularly happy since acquainting non-Latin Americans with our language and culture is HOLA's main objective.

"HOLA" in Spanish means HELLO. The name symbolizes the greeting with which the organization has traditionally greeted its old members and hopes to welcome newcomers.

Tri-Beta

Tri-Beta is a national biological honor society which promotes scientific knowledge and biological research. Members participate in scientific conventions, tours, lectures, and interact with the community in the surrounding area.

This year Tri-Beta is hosting the Northeast District I Regional Convention. Guest speaker Dr. Donald Armstrong will lecture on A.I.D.S., Tri-Beta has also taken an interest in beautifying the campus by planting bulbs in various locations.

Eco-Mgt Club

The newly formed Economics/ Management Club's objective is to integrate classroom learning with real business situations and problems. Topping its list of activities during the fall semester were two trips to the New York Stock Exchange and a visit from Tom Hess, Marketing Manager for Walt Disney Productions. The Club also hosted Sears to come to campus in order to allow students to apply for Sear's credit cards.

The Club also held informal meetings to discuss current issues such as: the trade deficit, whistle-blowing, farm price supports, and mergers and acquisitions.

The Club will continue to supplement classroom learning during its second semester by touring the Federal Reserve Bank, hearing neighboring executives discuss their work experiences and exploring recent economic developments.

International Club

The International Club has created a climate which helps students with different cultural and educational backgrounds to get together and share their experiences.

During the Fall semester, the Club organized an International dinner dance which included various dance presentations and offered foreign dishes to its guests. The Club also showed a series of foreign films and raised money for the Mexican relief fund. Students from Africa, the Near East, and the Middle East shared their experiences with Club members about their countries. They helped students, especially those pursuing an International Studies major, to learn more about these specific areas of the world.

The Spring semester activities will include focuses on South Africa, the Far East and Europe. The Club is planning to organize trips to the United Nations and other college campuses to help new students acquaint themselves with the tri-state area. The International Club intends to attract more members and make the Spring semester as successful as the Fall semester.

President

As you might imagine, my first year at Manhattanville has passed quickly. I've felt at times, the way all freshmen feel — excited, challenged, perplexed, pleased, searching. I have been impressed with the willingness of members of this community, students, staff, and faculty alike, to welcome a stranger so graciously and warmly into their midst.

My hopes for Manhattanville's future are probably much like yours for your alma mater. I want very much to find ways to support our able faculty so that our fine academic program and reputation are assured. I hope to find the financial support necessary to improve both academic and student facilities. I want to find ways to encourage students to continue the search for a sense of personal excellence and achievement, to find ways to encourage students to search for and develop that inner strength necessary to succeed in our increasingly complicated world, and most of all I want to find ways to encourage students to approach life's challenges with personal conviction and passion.

WHEN I MUST LEAVE YOU

When I must leave you for a little while
Please do not grieve and shed wild tears
And hug your sorrow to you through the years
But start out bravely with a gallant smile
And for my sake and in my name
Live on and do all things the same
Feed not your loneliness on empty days
But fill each waking hour in useful ways.
Reach out your hand in comfort and in cheer
And I in turn will comfort you and hold you near
And never never be afraid to die
For I am waiting for you in the sky.

ED ROSA's influence

at Manhattanville was felt in many intangible ways — in his hope and committment, as a teacher in the broadest sense, and in his belief in human possibilities.

THE HEOP OFFICE

THE CASTLE

The grounds on which Reid Hall stands today can be traced back to 1661 when Chief Shanarocke of the Siwanoy Indians (a branch of the Mohegans) turned the land over to John Budd of Southold, Long Island, who then built a grist mill on Blind Brook. But no claim was ever filed with the Provincial Governor for the land.

Towards the end of the 17th century, another Indian Pathungo, reclaimed the land and passed it on to John Harrison of Flushing, Queens, for 40 pounds. The only restriction Pathungo set was that he be able to continue to use the whitewood(or tulip) trees for canoes. Harrison filed a claim, and an official patent was granted for the land, which became known as Harrison's "Purchase" — the name given it by a band of Quakers who settled here in the early 1700's. In 1864, Ben Holladay bought 1,000 acres in the area, and the marble halls of his mansion rose on the wooded countryside. Called the "Stagecoach King," Holladay was a colorful pioneer business tycoon who built an extensive financial empire, first around investments in the Pony Express and later by securing the U.S. Mail contracts for the Overland Express coaches. Using teams of horses, he carried passengers and mail from Kansas and Nebraska through the dangerous western territories to Utah and California. He called his estate Ophir Farm, named after the Ophir Silver Mine in Virginia City, Nevada, which he partially owned.

The mansion Holladay built was admired throughout the state as a fine home of its type. In an effort to recreate the atmosphere of the West, buffalo were brought from Wyoming and elk from Colorado, as well as antelope and deer. The streams were stocked with speckled trout; landscape gardeners planted trees, ferns and wild flowers brought from the West. Early maps mark the estate as "Buffalo Park."

When Ben returned to the West for a lengthy stay, his wife, Ann began to seek old world nobility as prospects for her daughters' marriages, and expenses quickly mounted up. She also decided to build a small Chapel on the property for her family. Located beneath the Chapel, which was designed in Norman Gothic style, was the family vault. About a half-mile away from the mansion, towards Westchester Avenue, a natural boulder was set up midway along the carriage drive; on it was carved a cross with a heart at the center. (Today the Chapel remains in place near Purchase Street; the boulder is located opposite the southeast corner of the Benziger Building.)

On the day Ann died in 1873, the first great economic panic of the 19th century hit the country like a wave. As she was buried in her wooded refuge, Ben Holladay watched his empire fall in one day's stock collapse. A huge financial burden, his mansion was put up for public sale.

It was purchased by John Roach, whose foresight and skill earned for him the title of "father of iron shipbuilding" in America. But Roach waited for the completion of an important business deal before beginning restoration work. He died before long and left the estate to his son Garret, who immediately put the property up for public auction.

THE CASTLE

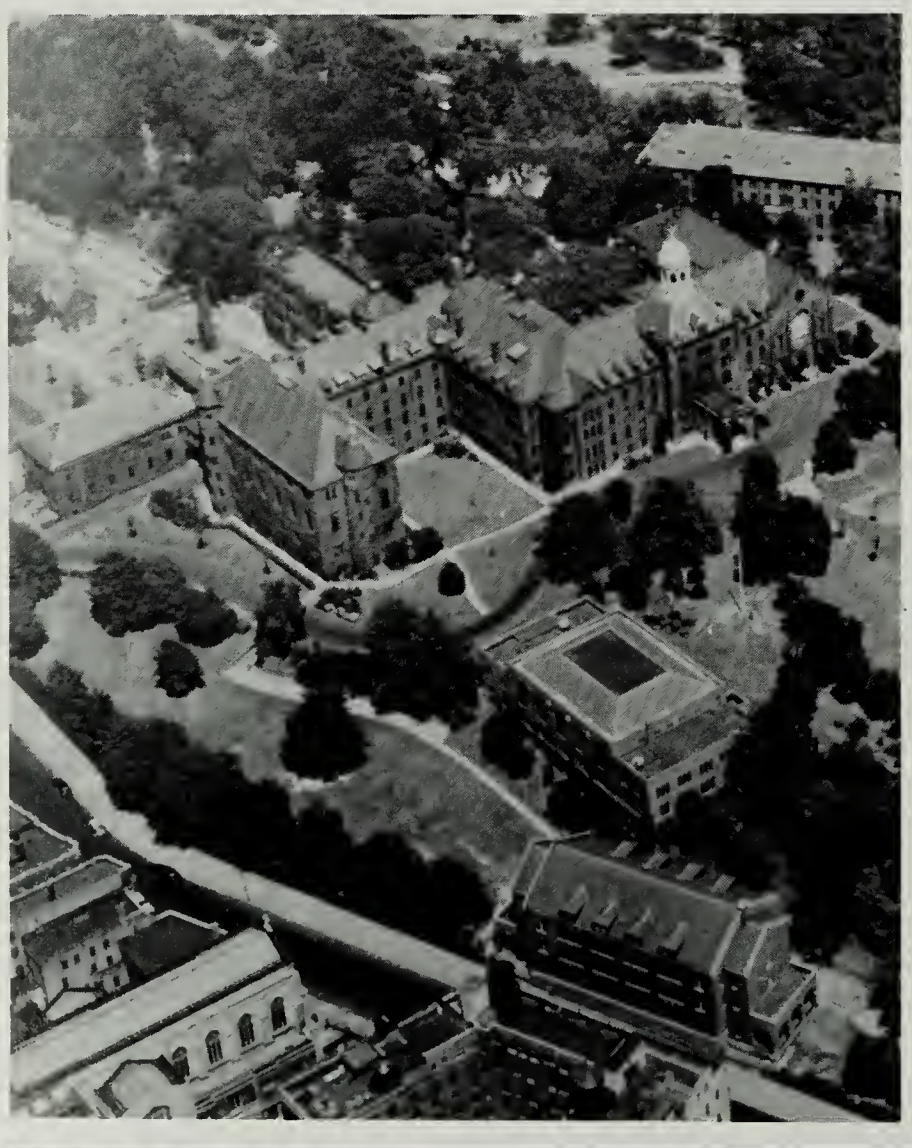
In 1888, the old Ophir Farm, vacant now for almost 15 years, became the country estate of Whiteclaw Reid, owner of The New York Tribune. He and his wife, Elisabeth, were determined that their home would have the finest decorators and the most modern Victorian appliances. It would become the first in the Westchester area to be equipped with both telephone and electric wiring. Frederick Law Olmsted, noted landscape architect who had achieved success in designing New York's Central Park, was chosen to plan the landscaping.

The work was going smoothly when disaster struck again. On July 14, 1888, only a month before the Reids were scheduled to move in, a blaze caused by a short circuit swept through the house. Within a few hours, the mansion was in ruins. Gutted granite walls were the only reminder of its pioneer glory. (Ironically, that same month, the main building of the Manhattanville campus, then located on Convent Avenue in New York City, was almost completely destroyed by fire).

But the Reids decided to rebuild on a greater and grander scale than before, using stone quarried on the estate for the construction. The firm of McKim, Mead and White was commissioned to assist in the plans. Appointed Ambassador to France, Reid spent most of the construction period abroad, overseeing the building of the home through correspondence. He and his wife managed to translate many of their experiences into its design and decor. When they returned in 1892 for the grand opening, the mansion — now renamed Ophir Hall — was already acclaimed as a work of art.

Well-graded paths led past the self-supporting farms-lands, and the formal gardens designed by Olmsted were planted with trees and shrubs imported from France and England. Designed to be the home's crowning glory, the reception hall glistened from floor to frieze in two varieties of marble — yellow Numidian African marble and pink marble from Georgia, blended in perfect combination.

Above the staircase, an original stained g;ass work filtered light over the entire room. The two rooms to the right of the entry were brought to Purchase from an old chateau in Poissy, France, which was being demolished. They were the reception rooms of the Chateau de Billennes, the country estate of a member of the house of Napoleon III.



THE CASTLE

1892 was an election year in the United States, and Reid was home only a few months when President Benjamin Harrison asked him to be his running mate in the upcoming race. The President travelled to Ophir, giving a speech to the people of Westchester from the mansion's south porch, and a reception followed in the marble halls. The election was close. By a slim four percent of the popular vote, Ophir's owner lost the Vice Presidency.

Shortly after Reid decided to expand his home, he was named Ambassador to England. In 1905, he sailed with his family to London, where they became very popular in diplomatic circles. Once again, work on the estate was directed from abroad.

Just as the original portion of the mansion captured for the Reids their French assignment, the Jacobean Corridor, lined with paintings of Gainsborough and Turner, introduced an English style to the home that reflected their affliation with the Court of St. James. The great Library in this wing, the West Room, was in the Tudor style with pargeted ceiling. The panelling and bookcases were imported from England, and in the great west window were lancet-shaped panels and a roundel originally from the clerestory windows of Salisbury Cathedral.

By 1912, the wing was finished and ready to receive diplomatic visitors. But it was never used nor even seen by the Ambassador. Increasingly tense relations in pre-war Europe strained the health of the 75-year-old diplomat. On December 15, 1912, he died from a respiratory infection; thus one phase of the mansion's history came to a close.

Mrs. Reid, however, remained active in the affairs of her community and her nation, and Ophir Hall reflected this energetic pace. She helped establish a sanatorium and nurses' training school at Saranac Lake in the Adirondacks, one hospital in San Francisco and another at San Mateo in honor of her parents (Mr. and Mrs. Darius Ogden Mills).

THE CASTLE

One of Mrs. Reid's most ardent causes was the Red Cross. As a young bride, she had helped organize the New York Chapter and later, through her Red Cross work, was credited with instituting the U.S. Army Nursing Corps during the Spanish-American War. During World War I, she found a new purpose for the American Art Students' Club which she had established in Paris during her husband's assignment as Ambassador. Reopened in 1930 as Reid Hall, it became a center for American university women in Paris.

Under her guidance and that of her son Ogden, the family's newspaper also flourished, merging with the Herald to become The New York Herald Tribune. Through all these years, Ophir Hall was the scene of much activity, including visits by prominent individuals — young and old — from business, government, the arts and the world of sports. Across Purchase Street, her son and his wife (the former Helen Rogers) lived in Ophir Cottage, where they had taken up residence after their marriage in 1911. There, they also entertained renowned guests from many walks of life — Presidents Calvin Coolidge and Herbert Hoover, adventurer heroes Amelia Earhart and Admiral Richard Byrd as well as Henry James and Gene Tunney, among others.

In 1931, the State Department turned to the Ambassador's widow for help in finding shelter for the King of Siam, who planned a visit to the U.S. in order to undergo eye surgery. During his trip, King Prajadhipok would also become the first Oriental monarch to visit the White House. Mrs. Reid arranged for the royal entourage to stay in Ophir Hall and then she left for one of her frequent trips to France. On board the S.S. Leviathan, she contracted a cold which two weeks later, turned into pneumonia. At the age of 73, she died while visiting her daughter's villa near Nice.

With Mrs. Reid's death, the doors of Ophir Hall were closed.

In 1947, when Ogden Reid died, the financial burden of maintaining such an extensive property became apparent, and plans were launched to place much of it on the market.

One proposal, which was defeated by the local town board, called for the construction of a shopping center and housing development. For a brief time, the grounds were also explored as a location for the United Nations, but that possibility was removed when the East River site in New York City was selected.

THE CASTLE

Manhattanville College, located since 1841 in New York City, purchased 250 acres of the estate in 1949. The decision to relocate the College followed long and numerous discussions among members of Manhattanville's Board of Trustees, the President, Eleanor O'Byrne, R.S.C.J., and other Religious of the Sacred Heart with officials of the City of New York. Deliberations concerning specific plans for the new campus were carried on by faculty department chairmen who were invited to assist in designing the new Academic Building, the Library, the Music Building — and Mother O'Byrne herself contributed enormously in terms of both ideas and leadership.

On May 3, 1951, groundbreaking ceremonies were held on the quiet rolling hills of the estate. In an incredibly short time: less than a year-and-a-half, the monumental effort of building a new campus and physically moving furniture, equipment, hundreds of documents and thousands of books was completed. In September 1952, as five College buildings were opened, Manhattanville entered a new phase of its history.

Throughout these early years in Purchase, Mother O'Byrne continued to expand the College's horizons, both physically and academically. A professor of history who served as Dean of the College for 11 years before becoming its President in 1945, she was one of the first women to play a leading role in such educational organizations as the Middle States Association and was one of the earliest supporters of the integration struggle waged by the N.A.A.C.P. Her travels throughout the country and the world to champion the causes of social justice and human rights, ecumenism and educational excellence, made her little short of legendary.

On campus, a Chapel, three other dormitories and a gymnasium were added, and Ophir Hall was refurbished to serve as the administrative center. In 1969, it was renamed Reid Hall. New degrees were added to the curriculum — the Bachelor of Fine Arts, the Master of Arts and the Master of Arts in Teaching — and the first undergraduate summer session was held.

In 1965, when Mother O'Byrne retired, The New York Times described her, as she stood on the terrace outside the President's Office: "In front of her to the south as she stood on the old gray turreted castle, was the campus she was instrumental in creating, all limestone and brick and still a-building."

On March 22, 1974, the U.S. Department of the Interior designated Reid Hall in the National Register of Historic Places in recognition of its historical and architectural significance.

Today, under President Marcia Savage, Reid Hall is the focus of 'round-the-year cultural and administrative activities — filling needs undreamed of by Ben Holladay or Whitelaw Reid, yet not foreign to their spirit.

Mr Dear Graduate,

Because the time has arrived for you to embark into a new world of relationships and career choices, I want you to remember that I will always be by your side to guide you. When you feel dejected or burdened by life's ailments, turn to me and I will give you comfort and strength.

Fear not the world around you for you have witnessed that there is nothing that you can't achieve if you have faith in yourself. I have watched over you during the past four years while you searched for yourself. Manhattanville College will continue to remain a fond reflection of the friendships you have formed and of the goals you have set and achieved. Look not with haste upon these past four years, but with a grateful heart. For it was here that you received the gift of education and the chance to develop your personality.

As Manhattanville has undergone, and will continue to undergo, changes throughout the years, so too will you experience changes in your own life. Rather than fear these changes, regard them as a stepping stone to the advancement of your identity.

When you leave Manhattanville, open up your heart and teach others all that you have learned. By inspiring others with your gift of self and knowledge, you will gain a level of personal fulfillment that will last the rest of your life. I hope that you will continue to grow in your work, in your personality, and in your love for others.

Above all else Graduate, remember this: To love yourself always. Everything you encounter in life will take time and devotion. Never forget that I am here and that I love you. My faith in you is strong and endless.

Love,

Your greatest admirer and friend.

EAC

YOURSELF

I decided long ago never to walk in anyone's shadow. If I fail, if I succeed, at least I'll live as I believe. No matter what they take from me they can't take away my dignity . . . For learning to love yourself is the greatest love of all.
